

New Hampshire Deputy Data Director

The New Hampshire Democratic Party is seeking a full-time Deputy Data Director based in New Hampshire. The position reports to the NHDP Data Director.

In addition to supporting the work of the New Hampshire Democratic Party, this position will be at the center of every Democratic campaign in New Hampshire, helping to add context to the work being done on the ground and providing data support to these campaigns as needed. This includes the New Hampshire Coordinated Campaign, the Democratic House, Senate, and Executive Council Caucuses, and candidate campaigns up and down the ballot.

Duties of the Deputy Data Director could include:

- Creating scheduled, interactive, and ad-hoc reports to give context and insights to programs that are being run within the state
- Identifying, analyzing, and interpreting voter trends or patterns in order to precisely target voters
- Building and maintaining innovative data pipelines in order to leverage the wide array of information being collected by campaigns and organizations
- Administering VoteBuilder, and troubleshooting issues for users as they arise
- Enhancing the statewide Voter File by finding, cleaning, and appending relevant data sources
- Working with stakeholders from activists to campaign leadership in order to train and familiarize them with data department products

Desired Skills and Qualifications:

- Passion for Democratic party values
- Proven ability to handle multiple projects simultaneously and meet deadlines under pressure by thinking of creative solutions
- Comfortable using Microsoft Excel or Google Sheets to track, analyze, and present data
- Votebuilder experience (either as an administrator or user)

Other Desirable Skills and Qualifications (Not Required):

- One or more cycles of campaign experience, including any other campaign departments

- Previous SQL experience at any level, preferably using the Civis Platform or Google BigQuery
- Experience creating data projects in Python, R, or other programming languages
- Experience using API's, Webhooks, and scheduled programming jobs to build data pipelines

How to Apply:

To apply, e-mail your resume to resumes@nhdp.org. Please list "Deputy Data Director Application" in the subject line. No calls, please.

This position is based in Concord, NH and will be open until filled and applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis. Salary range is $6,000-$6,500 per month depending on experience, and includes a full benefits package including health, vision, and dental insurance at no cost to the employee. This is an election cycle position. This position is unionized under IBEW Local 2320.

Background - Our Party
